

COAL LANDS SALE THE LARGEST OF RECORD IN WEST

DEAL INVOLVING CLOSE TO HUNDRED THOUSAND.

General Manager Tonkin of Independent Coal and Coke and Charles W. Buckley, Chicago Capitalist, Purchasers—Selling Three Hundred Dollars the Acre.

John H. Tonkin of Salt Lake City and Charles W. Buckley of Chicago have just acquired through purchase from the United States government three hundred and twenty acres of coal lands in Sec. 8, Twp. 13 South, Range 10 East, Carbon county, the consideration being $91,800, the lands being appraised at two hundred and seventy-five and at three hundred dollars an acre. Patents to the ground were received by Gould H. Blakeley, register of the Salt Lake City land office, on October 18th. However, the sale was approved by the interior department last September 20th.

While Tonkin is the general manager of the Independent Coal and Coke company operating up at Kowlworth, it was said at the general office of the company last Friday that the transaction is a private one in which the Independent is not in any way interested. This is quite the largest transaction in coal lands made at any one time in the history of Utah or of the West for that matter. The other big sale which until now gave Wyoming the lead was consummated last year through the Evanson, Wyo., land office when a hundred and sixty acres brought seventy-three thousand dollars, the highest total purchase price made up to that time.

Of course this Tonkin and Buckley deal means later on another producer in Carbon county. There is too much money tied up for a mere investment. The Sun expects to see the Independent spread out.

JOINT RAIL RATE ANSWER FILED BY A. R. BALDWIN

A. R. Baldwin, the receiver for the Denver and Rio Grande, last Monday filed with the public utilities commission of Utah answer to the allegations made by the Bamberger Electric in its case filed some time ago with the commission against the Utah Railway company and others, in which it sought to have a joint rate established between railroad lines delivering coal at Ogden. It was alleged by the plaintiff company that because of the absence of a joint rate, a delay of from one to five days was incurred in the delivery of coal in Ogden yards, by reason of transfer. Baldwin in his answer denies that there is any physical connection between the Bamberger line either at Salt Lake City or Ogden and the Denver and Rio Grande.

Baldwin admits that there is no joint or through rate over the lines of either the defendant or plaintiff companies, and asserts that there is no necessity for the establishment of rates other than are now provided. While he is not informed concerning the quantity of coal shipped over the lines of specific routes referred to in the complaint of the plaintiff company, he denies that the establishment of suggested rates in the annual complaint would save from one to five days in the transportation of coal hauled by any of the lines concerned in the case instituted by the Bamberger.

He further denies that public convenience or necessity demands the establishment of through or joint rates, and says that the establishment of such would not be fair and reasonable from the standpoint of the defendants. He asks dismissal of the case by the utilities commission.

MINING INDUSTRY FEEDING RAILROADS LARGE TONNAGE

According to a very recent report of the interstate commerce commission, about half of all the revenue freight carried on all the railroads of the United States during the first three months of this year was derived from the mining industry, the total being 255,114,086 tons carried in 5,428,164 cars. Agriculture accounted for 56,000,000 tons, animal products for 11,000,000 tons, forest products for 50,000,000 tons, manufacturing and miscellaneous for 115,000,000 tons, and merchandise in less than carload lots for 22,000,000 tons or a grand total carried of 511,000,000 tons.

Classifying the freight movement of mine products, we find apportioned to bituminous coal, 5,309,164 carloads; anthracite, 639,804; clay, gravel, sand and stone, 484,554; coke, 361,111; ores and concentrates, 192,449; iron ore, 139,000; crude petroleum, 89,799; shale, 57,687; asphaltum, 38,598; base bullion and matte, 16,018; and other various products, 89,116. As to location of origin, 3,261,010 cars came from Eastern; 1,248,047 cars from Western; 596,208 from Southern; and 322,809 cars from Pecoschottas districts.

About a decade ago E. H. Harriman astonished the country by saying that 60 per cent of all freight carried by United States railroads originated from mines of all kinds. The recent report of the interstate commerce

ROBERT J. SCHULTZ IS YOUNG AND ABLE, AND MOST WORTHY

Robert J. Schultz of Castle Gate is the democratic aspirant to the governorship of Carbon county, having no opposition in the convention that nominated him. For a long while after the opening of the United States Fuel company mines over at Hixson and at Mohrland and at Helmer he was employed on the engineering staff of that corporation, and only quit it a few weeks ago to accept a better position. He comes from one of the older families of Carbon county, his parents being residents of Castle Gate more than twenty-five years ago. He is a graduate of one of the best engineering schools in the country, and besides has had the practical experience that fits him for his chosen work. He is a brother of J. Cameron Schultz, member of the consolidated school board, and holding a responsible position with the coal company at Hixson. If elected it may be depended upon that Robert J. Schultz will give the duties of the governor's office that close attention to demands. He is honest, conscientious in his undertakings and trustworthy as all will testify who have had occasion for his services. Carbon county needs just such a man in the governor's office.

commission shows that the industry is holding its own, in spite of a period of depression that happily has seen no counterpart in recent years. Mining is the basic industry.

Railroads cannot be operated without it and the world itself could not long be run.

BROKEN CONTRACTS GET THESE MINERS NOWHERE

The anthracite coal miners who are members of the mine workers union profess to believe in collective bargaining. Often they have soundly denounced, and rightly—coal operators refusing to arbitrate labor demands. They have been unanimous in protest when an operator failed to live up to the exact word of a contract signed by operators and labor union officials, comments Salt Lake City's Telegram editorially. Now thousands of these same miners are striking. A strike is a strike even though it be disguised as a "vacation." It is an outlaw strike. It isn't a fair strike. The miners, through their labor chosen officials, made certain demands for wage increases. The scale committee of the miners and operators got together, and both pledged themselves to abide

VALUES IT MORE THAN FORTUNE, DECLARES POWER

RHEUMATISM OF NOVA SCOTIA MAN DISAPPEARS.

Tanlac, the Premier Prescription, Brings Good and Restful Sleep At Night and He Feels New Like An Entirely New Man—Friends Told Him of Great Benefits to Them.

"What Tanlac has done for me is worth more than a fortune," said George Power of 204½ Rotenberg street, a lifelong resident of Halifax, N. S., and well known employee of the Nova Scotia Tram and Power company. "I have gained eighteen pounds and feel better than for twenty-eight long years," he continued. "I don't believe anybody in the world suffered from rheumatism as bad as I did. It was a sharp, shooting pain that would go through my knees, down my legs and into my ankles just like somebody was sticking a knife through me. I couldn't work at all in damp weather and suffered so intensely I would turn white as a sheet. When the attacks came on I wouldn't be able to sleep a wink, my joints would swell and my knees would get stiff as boards and I wouldn't be able to walk for two or three days at a time—just lay up in bed flat of my back."

"Tanlac was so highly recommended by people right here in Halifax that I tried it and now I wouldn't take anything in the world for the good it has done me. My rheumatism is entirely gone, my appetite has picked up, too, and I sleep fine every night, and feel like a different man altogether. Tanlac is the greatest thing I have ever seen and I want to let everybody know what this wonderful medicine will do."

by the federal commission's award. The miners, through representatives of their own selection, agreed to accept the findings of that commission. Naturally this carried with it the acceptance of the award by the majority of that commission, for this is the land where majorities rule.

The majority report awarded wage increases of from 17 per cent to 25 per cent. The minority report contained larger increases. President Wilson, to whom the reports were referred, accepted the majority report. So did these same union officials. They signed it. It then became a contract arrived at by collective bargaining, the very thing labor has so long fought for. But thousands of miners took a "vacation." Labor of America cannot succeed along these lines. Neither labor nor business can stand upon broken contracts, nor can either expect the other, or the public, to support the right of collective bargaining if the given word is more fiction, and the signing of an agreement mere subterfuge to collect some dollars one wouldn't otherwise get.

The right of collective bargaining is the very breath of life to labor unionism. Without it labor unionism would be nothing. With it labor commands an equal footing with capital. By the outlaw strike and the broken word labor places an ever widening gulf between it and public sympathy and public support, without which labor can make but little or no headway.

AROUND THE COAL CAMPS: PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE

Coal surveys made by inspectors of the New York city health department last week show a supply of less than a tenth of the normal amount which the people there should have at this time of the year.

Independent Coal and Coke company, operating up at Kowlworth, has filed with the secretary of state its amended articles of incorporation increasing its capital stock from $1,150,000 to $2,500,000 in shares of one dollar each.

King George has set an example for householders throughout his country in the saving of coal by ordering that the fires in the royal palace shall be lighted only when absolutely necessary. Even then they are to be kept as small as possible.

Following the example of the coal miners in England, the French miners have made a demand for an immediate increase in wages of five francs a day. The demand for the raise in pay is accompanied by the threat that unless the demand is complied with at an early date a strike will ensue.

While peers and landed proprietors are selling their property the miners of England are earning so much that they can afford to demand the best of everything, even at present day prices. "The miners," it is declared, "don't care how much they pay for the best, as long as they get it. The men make no secret of their wealth. They take handfuls of notes from their pockets just as the professional man produces coppers." Some soldiers can show paychecks showing
